Rehab Center: Stone Hawk Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation Treatment Center

Description: The Stone Hawk Rehabilitation Center is located in south central Michigan, approximately 1-1/2 hours west of Detroit and 1-1/2 hours east of Chicago in Battle Creek, Michigan. Stone Hawk Rehabilitation facility is on 13.5 acres with over 350 feet of water frontage on private St. Mary's Lake.
Stone Hawk drug rehabilitation center is just 5 miles from downtown Battle Creek, nestled in a quiet semi-residential area. The 58,000 sq. ft. building is surrounded by rolling hills and large oak trees. The lake is stocked for fishing and the serenity makes it complete, for an addiction recovery.
Stone Hawk drug rehabilitation center fits very nicely within the community of Battle creek and shares a common bond with its founders - the Kellogg's, Dr. Kellogg believed deeply in saunas to heal the body and the benefits of holistic medicine - nutrition was a priority in keeping the body healthy and with his brother, developed Kellogg cereals. Today Kellogg is known worldwide and the traditions carry on.
