Rehab Center: Transitions of Malibu

Description: Transitions of Malibu wants every guest to feel at home. Our 7500 square foot residence is located on a luxuriously landscaped and private estate in the rugged Santa Monica Mountains; only a short distance from the beach. We provide a supportive and family like environment to assist you on your journey of personal recovery. You will be given the freedom and privacy that allows your continued growth into the next phase of your life.
Transitions of Malibu is a private estate, fully staffed and designed to provide the tools needed for long term recovery. We are located in the picturesque Santa Monica mountains minutes from the beach, hiking and recreational areas. We understand and are equipped to guide our residents back to a productive life and facilitate the process of recovery. Everyone that walks through our doors becomes a member of our extended family. By creating a safe and peaceful environment we make our guests feel at home. We emphasize the mental, physical and spiritual elements in healing. The seclusion and meditative nature of our residence gives you the opportunity to reflect and re-energize your life. We want your stay to be a gratifying experience and by providing the necessary tools through staff and services our goal is to return you to a life of sobriety. Changes are not always easy which is why relapse prevention is our main focus. Transitions understands that each client is unique and will require individualized services.
